Hello

I am a husband and father of 2 wonderful boys, who keep me busy most of the time. I have always been interested in photography for as long as I can remember, I was always the one who had a camera in their hand.

I have been photographing weddings for 10 years now. I started out by being a second photographer to a number of local wedding photographers. Over a few years my experience grew and I then made the decision to start out on my own.

I know that I am very lucky to have a job that I love and it brings me so much joy to be part of your wedding day.

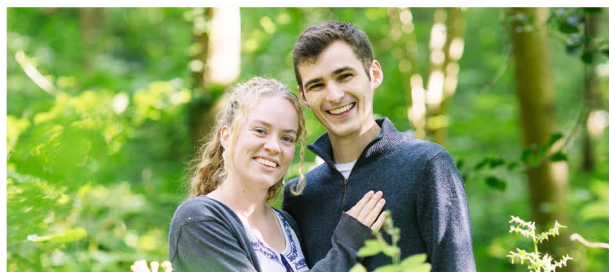

Engagement Shoot

So many couples that I talk to are nervous about their picture being taken. To help put you at ease in front of the camera. I include an engagement shoot so when your wedding day arrives you don't have to worry. We get to know each other better and I see how you and your partner interact, which helps me capture those special moments on your big day.

Wedding Day

What to expect,

I always meet up with you before your wedding to go through your plans. This helps me identify what really matters to you, I combine this with your engagement shoot and venue visit so that nothing is missed on the day.

My style is a mix of documentary and staged pictures. From starting with the prep shots in the morning to the first dance in the evening. I stand back to capture your special moments only standing forward to organise the group shots and the set photos we have chosen.

Informal Meeting about your day.

We can meet at any location locally. Normally this lasts for a couple of hours talking through the details of your day so I have a better understanding of timings and key elements that you want recorded.

Venue visit and tailor made shot list.

I find that meeting at the venue to walk through the day with you is always of benefit. We can finalise the timings for the day and discuss any ideas you have about the photos and locations around the venue that you would like to include.

Engagement Shoot.

On your wedding day you have enough to think about. At the engagement shoot we can talk about how to get the best results from your photos. You can experience your photo being taken and how I work with you. This helps create a relaxed atmosphere on your wedding day.

This is a wonderful reminder of your special day, that you can keep looking at again and again.
